In Pet Care

Veterinary actichew™

At last, there's a new drug delivery technology for companion pets that'll have dogs everywhere eating right out of their owner's hand—the Veterinary Actichew™. Our patented delivery system is not a pill, powder, capsule or liquid, but a soft, great-tasting chew that can be flavored to mask almost any active ingredient (or multiple ingredients) with the tantalizing taste of beef, chicken, cheese, peanut butter...even pizza! In case studies of over 1500 dogs that were given the Veterinary Actichew—all of them liked it—in fact, they wanted more! The chemical matrix of the Actichew also conveniently allows for active ingredients to be combined and manufactured in a wide variety of shapes and sizes. Plus all Actichew ingredients are pharmaceutical grade and safe for pets. There's absolutely no beef by-products, so there's no BSE concerns. Clinical trials have even proven the Actichew delivery system to be faster and more effective than pills, powders or capsules. In short, shouldn't you be looking at Veterinary Actichew technology for your next product?
